VOLUME XXI—NO 245

CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1921

LICENSE COURT WILL LIKELY BE HELD IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Legislature Believed to Be Favorable to Retention of Brooks Law

TEMPERANCE FORCES TO FIGHT

License court in Washington county this year will depend on the action of the Legislature, now in session at Harrisburg. On Tuesday the Martin bill, which would have repealed the Brooks license law, was defeated, and it now appears that this measure which has controlled the liquor business in Pennsylvania for many years will be continued in force.

In that event the Washington county court has indicated that a session of license court will be held as usual, but no notice of the forthcoming session will be given until final action on the matter has been taken by the legislature. Last year license court was not held until April 20, ten days before the licenses become effective May 1.

On Tuesday, John C. Batley, of East Bethlehem township, filed with the clerk of courts his application for the transfer to himself of the license in that township, held by the late Thomas Madigan, of Fredericktown. A hearing on the application will be heard on Monday morning next at 10 o'clock.

At the last license court the granting of licenses was opposed by the temperance people of the county on the ground that the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution and the passage of the Volstead enforcement act prevented the Brooks law from continuing to operate. This objection was not sustained by the court, which ruled that licenses may still be granted under the Brooks law, subject, however, to the restrictions imposed by the federal law.

Last year licenses were granted to five breweries and 22 retailers in the county, the court directing that each license granted have written upon the face thereof the following:

"This license is granted, subject to the provisions of the constitution and laws of the United States, and does not authorize the vending of any liquor or liquors the sale of which is or shall be prohibited by said constitution and laws."

Persistent rumors have been current for some time that a number of the saloons have not been living up to the licenses as granted, but have been selling "hard" liquor and other drinks banned by the Volstead act. This matter has been carefully investigated by the temperance forces of the county and in case license court is held all of those saloons will be met with charges that they have violated the license granted them. It is hinted also that prosecutions for perjury may also be instituted in a number of instances where flagrant violations of the law have been detected in case these sales are denied when the applications for license is heard.

WATCHING OUTCOME OF ELIMINATION SERIES

Members of the local high school basketball team, as well as other followers of the game are watching with interest the outcome of the basketball game this evening between Fifth Avenue High of Pittsburg, and Bellevue High at Trees' Stadium. The winner of tonight's contest will meet McKeesport High at Motor Square Garden on Thursday evening. McKeesport appears to be the favorite to win the premier title. Tube City won the honors in Section V, of which the Charleroi team is a member.

SLOAN GETS VERDICT FOR FULL AMOUNT

The suit of Tom P. Sloan of North Charleroi against Charles Miller of Beallsville, to recover for a commission on the sale of coal land, was ended in common pleas court at Washington on Tuesday by the jury returning a verdict for the full amount claimed, $13,500, together with interest from November 1, 1919, to March 22, 1921, or a total of $20,044.75. The case had been on trial in court for about a week, and a number of witnesses were called to testify. The jury was out but a very short time when it returned with a verdict for the plaintiff. It is understood the jurymen were unanimous on every point in favor of the plaintiff. The testimony was all presented by Monday evening and Tuesday morning was taken up the attorneys in presenting their case to the jury and the Judge's charge. The verdict is the largest of its kind ever returned in common pleas court of this county.

Women's Committee Plans For a Big Clean-Up Week

The first officially appointed committee of women met last evening in the Chamber of Commerce room. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. F. C. Stahlman, and Mrs. C. C. Wright was appointed permanent secretary of the committee. A very careful survey was made of what the women can do for this community, and a program was mapped out containing some things which can be realized in the near future and some which it will take time to mature. The committee was enthusiastically unanimous in deciding that Charleroi should have a "Clean-up Week," which will be the week beginning April 11th. At the present time, there are twenty-nine women members of the Chamber of Commerce, and it was decided that they would all act as a committee to launch a "Clean-up Week." The city will be divided into districts, and the women will be held responsible for the district to which they have been assigned. The Clean-up Week will consist largely of the removal of tin cans, ashes, and any other unsightly objects that can be conveniently removed. However, more detailed instructions will be given as we near the time of the campaign. The next meeting of the Women's Committee will be held on Thursday evening, March 31st, at which time all subordinate committees will meet with the general committee, and a program will be finally worked out. The Chamber of Commerce will be asked to name a committee of men to meet with the women on the above named date, that a joint program may be considered. Also the Boy Scouts will be asked to help in this movement.

A general occasion for all the women of the Chamber will be held on Friday, April 8th at the home of Mrs. W. B. Pfelehardt. The object of this meeting will be to generate enthusiasm for the "Clean-up Week" which begins on the following Monday. A speaker will be obtained from out of town, and it was thought best to ask the Board of Directors and the Secretary-Manager of the Chamber to attend this meeting.

Every citizen of Charleroi ought to support the women in this noble effort to clean up the town. They are most unselfish in what they are trying to do, and any one who has any civic pride will be impelled to respond to the call of these women.

Mrs. C. C. Wright and Mrs. F. C. Stahlman were appointed as a committee to investigate the possibilities of securing a room in the Municipal Building for a library, and also to locate the books from the old library. The women thought that it might be possible to get a librarian on part time.

The planting of trees will be encouraged by the women, and a more definite program will be worked out for a later date. A social worker and a community nurse was discussed, and the committee was appointed to cooperate with the Red Cross in making possible such a worker for this community.

A lecture course and Daylight Saving were both discussed by this committee. The women will do everything in their power to make possible a lecture course, especially if it can be held in the Municipal auditorium; and in regard to Daylight Saving, it was felt that this community ought to fall in line with Pittsburg, the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., and the other cities of the Monongahela valley.

One of the most important moves that the women of the Chamber have under consideration is a confederation of all the women's clubs of the city. The amalgamation of all these clubs will take time, but it will be immensely worth while when accomplished. The heads of the various women's clubs, such as missionary societies, dramatic clubs, sewing circles and other cultural clubs will be called together for a conference in the near future.

It has only been very recently that women have been admitted to membership in the Chamber of Commerce throughout the country, but wherever they have been admitted, and have been recognized as on a par with the men of the organization, they have made good. The women of this community, by the interest they are taking, are providing themselves to be worthy of a large place in the program of the Chamber of Commerce. It is most sincerely hoped by the Secretary-Manager of the Chamber that the men will realize that no community program is complete unless the women have a part in it.

NEW LAW WOULD MAKE MANY CHANGES IN BORO GOVERNMENT

ASK FOR DAMAGES BECAUSE OF DOG BITE

Before Judge Hughes in common pleas court at Washington on Tuesday the suit of Fred J. Sutherland against Regis Moyer, a claim for damages for injuries sustained by a small daughter of the plaintiff, who was bitten by an alleged vicious dog, was called. The dog, it was ascertained, had rabies and the little child had to undergo treatment in the Pasteur Institute in Pittsburg. The defendant denied that he was owner of the dog. All parties are from Lock No. Four.

CHARLEROI RESPONDS TO MONONGAHELA CALL

At 2 o'clock this morning the tipple and all equipment of the Donkey Coal company, two and one-half miles from Monongahela, on Pigeon creek, was destroyed by fire. The watchman of the plant had seen five suspicious strangers about the place Sunday night, and Tuesday night he saw three of the same men. He fired on them but they escaped. At 2 o'clock the tipple was fired and destroyed. The Monongahela fire department was summoned and re-manded and did splendid work in checking the blaze.

While engaged in this work the fire company was summoned back to its own city by a fire which had broken out in a barber shop on Main street, near Second and owned by John Thorpe. The blaze was so dangerous that calls were sent to Donora, Monessen, Charleroi and Bentleyville, for assistance, and all of them responded. Before the flames were under control the fruit store of Rose Loreni, the shoe shine stand of Nick Mandes, the Thorpe barber shop and the grocery and fruit store of Elias Mamie were destroyed. Rose Loreni's loss is estimated at $7,500; Mandes $300; Thorpe barber shop total, and Elias Mamie $9,500.

The fire was in a section of the city, where, if the flames had got beyond control, would have destroyed a large section of the town. The prompt assistance rendered by adjoining towns saved the citizens of Monongahela many thousands of dollars.

Proposed Measure Now Up for Third Reading at Harrisburg

COUNCILMEN WOULD BE PAID

House Bill No. 759, now up for third reading and final passage in the House at Harrisburg, is of more than usual interest to the residents of boroughs in Pennsylvania. It completely transforms the government of municipalities of this class, and consolidates the executive power in the hands of a few men, who, of course, must be elected by the electors at large in the boroughs.

The first section of the bill provides for the payment of salaries to the councilmen, which in a borough the size of Charleroi, would be $1,000 per year. Section 2 provides that the burgess shall be a member of council; that he shall preside at all meetings and shall have an equal vote on all matters coming before that body.

Section three provides that the burgess shall not hold any other borough office during his term, but he shall be eligible for election.

Section 4 fixes the compensation of the burgess, which would be the same as councilmen, and in Charleroi, owing to our population, would be $1,000 per year.

Section 5 provides that all costs and fees which have heretofore gone to the treasury of the borough each month, with a sworn statement of the same.

Section 6 fixes the number of councilmen at two, who with a burgess, high constable and three auditors or a controller shall be chosen by the electors of the borough at large.

Section 6 provides that at the annual election to be held in the year 1921 there shall be elected in each borough one councilman to serve for a term of two years, and one councilman to serve for a term of four years from the first Monday in January next, succeeding. Biennially thereafter at the municipal election one councilman shall be elected for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding to fill the place of the councilman whose term under the provisions of this act shall expire on the first Monday of January next following such election.

On the first Monday of January, 1922, according to the provisions of the act, the terms of all councilmen then in office shall expire, it being the purpose and intent of this amendment that thereafter the council of each borough shall be composed of two councilmen and a burgess.

The remainder of the proposed act refers to the consolidation of boroughs, and the disposition of the officers of both municipalities.

Whether this bill is to have a hearing before the committee, or whether it will come up for third and final passage without giving people concerned an opportunity to be heard is not stated.

The bill in full appears in the Legislative Journal of date of Tuesday, March 5, 1921.

"JOY" FOR RICH MAN'S SON.

Thomas Mitten of Philadelphia says he is not going to leave any money to his son because he does not wish to deprive that young man of the joy of earning his own living. What are the son's views in this connection the interviewer does not state, but it is pretty safe to conclude that they are not quite identical with those of his father. There is an impression not without substantial basis that the average rich man's son discovers more joy in jazz than in jobs, and that in no few instances he works only when an unmanageable parent of the Mitten type refuses him an allowance. But if young Mitten does not like work he will have to learn to, for he appears to face the need of individual effort to an extent equal to that of any poor boy. According to the story, his father will not only decline to leave him any money but will have to zone to leave. Thomas Mitten does not believe in accumulating money beyond his needs and every year "gives away" all he makes above those needs.

The plan seems to be uncompromising and in no way inconsistent, and yet, after all, Mr. Mitten may be inconsistent. If any considerable part of the large sum he gives away every year goes, not to public institutions, but to individuals, he is limiting the joys of labor to his son only and inflicting the harm from which he aims to save his own family upon outside beneficiaries. Upon the whole the Mitten plan commends itself less than that of the rich man who, after educating his son, compels him to earn his bread for some years and then gives him money wherewith to build a fortune if capacity for such achievement has been acquired through practical industrial training.

One of the biggest clubs of the war period has been found to have been "stuffed" by no less an authority than the United States Supreme Court, which has set aside the anti-profiteering provisions of the Lever Act, which it holds to be unconstitutional. The law provided that all persons engaged in production or distribution of food, except farmers, who made more than a "fair profit," were subject to punishment as profiteers.

William Allen White complains that the motion picture producers have perverted his novel, "The Heart of a Fool," into "a nasty sex thing" with "an entirely different story." He is not the first to have such a grievance, and he will not be the last unless authors insist on having a hand in shaping the film version.

In these times the burglar's profession, like the writer's, tempts recruits who are remarkably deficient in the necessary qualifications. Witless that New York housebreaker who permitted a 65-year-old dame to grab him and sit on him till the police arrived.

952 Franklin Cars Shipped in February

Sales Keeping Up to High Level at Syracuse Factory. Business for the month of February as reported by the Franklin Automobile company of Syracuse show that sales are keeping up to a high level. By February 15 the entire month's production had been sold, and to meet the over-demand the factory was called upon for 100 more cars than planned for. Shipments for the month totaled 952 cars, or within 35 cars of the best February in the company's history—this occurring last year. A new record would have been hung up this year but for the fact that February, 1921 had one less day than February, 1920. Even with the Franklin factory working on a 40-car-per-day program, which is the present rate of production, it found itself unable to keep up with orders. During February the total number of orders received aggregated 1107, and even the 952-car output fell short of filling orders for February shipment by 155 cars. The manufacturing schedule for March calls for the production of 1031 cars.

DELIGHTFUL PLAY BY DRAMATIC ARTS CLUB

Thursday evening March 24, the Dramatic Arts Club of the Charleroi High School held its second meeting in the high school auditorium. A very amusing and entertaining program had been arranged under the direction of Miss Mabel Beck, head of the English department.

The program was begun by a dress from Grace Pinner, president of the club. Following the address Miss Edith Jensen entertained the club in her usual skilful manner with a violin solo. The remainder of the evening was given over to the play, "The Dressing Gown," which was literally and actually "put on" by the members of the club.

Norman Rose as the grumpy father played his part very well. Winifred Phillips as the mother sustained her character to the last where, upon to womankind the "worm turned." Aubrey Daniel as the lover, and Elizabeth Cope as the daughter furnished the ever popular love element in the play. James Bowers, the leader and Annette Stoneman, the maid, contributed much to the humor of the amusing situation that arose, when all the family attempted to remodel father's dressing gown, and succeeded in no only shortening it, but also in arousing father's anger.

However, all's well that ends well, for one by one the worms turned and father was at last "a changed man."

ASK CHANGES IN PROPOSED HIGHWAY

A committee from Long Branch and Twilight were in Washington on Tuesday interviewing the commissioners with reference to a proposed improvement of the highway leading to Howe cemetery. This road is in bad condition and the citizens who visited the commissioners desired that the county aid in the proposed project.

Representatives of the Pittsburgh Steel Products company were also before the commissioners on Tuesday with reference to a proposed change in the road leading from Speers to Bescoe. They desire the old route changed through their property, shifting it to the west, so that they will have unobstructed room for their railroad yards. The improvement would mean additional expense, but it is believed some arrangements will be made whereby the desires of the Products Company can be realized.

KILLED ON LAKE ERIE NEAR WEBSTER TIPPLE

Frank Archibald, aged 55, who lived in a shanty boat on the river at Webster, was instantly killed by a north bound P. & L. E. passenger train at the Equitable mine tipple near that place Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The body, horribly mangled, was taken to Rabe's morgue in Donora, where it will be held for a time with a view of hearing from relatives. By some it was intimated that Archibald had committed suicide.

The contracting firm engaged in the improvement of the Monongahela pike has a large camp west of Clocky and a considerable amount of grading has already been done. The contractors are from Virginia. This contract begins at the Washington borough line and extends eastward toward Monongahela.

WILL CELEBRATE FEAST OF PURIM

The feast of Purim will be held in the synagogue on the evening of March 24, to celebrate the feast of Purim, a minor festival of the Jewish calendar, which falls this year on March 24th and is observed according to the practice of the synagogue beginning with the evening of the previous day.

The ritual of the feast consists in the reading of the Book of Esther in the original or in a translation. In days of old this reading was accompanied by the unrestricted comments of the congregation on the contents of the scroll. The mention of Queen Esther and Mordecai was the occasion for applause, while the trickeries of Haman were ridiculed and reviled by any noisy method or instrument.

The semi-mirthful treatment of this Biblical story yielded in course of time to a more sober rendition. The story of the Jewish people in Persia, where the scene of the Book of Esther is located, reflected in part the career of the Jewish people in all ages. Then, even as now, in some quarters, the Jewish people were beset by opponents and daily their lives were threatened as they were in the story of Esther, which related how they were plotted against by Haman.

The joyous celebration of this feast was never modified in the darkest period of Israel's career. The bitter experiences of the Jewish people were forced to endure gave them greater reason to observe this festival in a spirit of merriment. In order to counteract the sadness of their own lot and revive their lagging faith in God who shielded them against the attacks of the implacable foe.

Home and synagogues were the scenes of joy and gladness. In the home additional delicacies were served at mealtimes. All who happened to be in distress were given cause to rejoice.

At the present time social programs are arranged such as masked balls and theatricals to provide cheer for the entire Jewish community. The sending of gifts and interchange of friendly visits is another feature of the Purim celebration.

ALLEGED DETECTIVE GETS AWAY WITH RIG

The Fayette Feed Company of Fayette City is short a horse and buggy which they hired to a man about ten days ago, who claimed to be a detective in the employ of the Burns Detective Agency. Up to this date they have been unable to locate either the man, horse or buggy.

When the man went to Mr. Safier of the feed company to hire a rig "to drive out into the country a short distance," he gave a card bearing the name of F. S. Williams, Burns Detective Agency, Pittsburgh, and paid $2 in advance. When the rig was not returned in the evening Mr. Safier became uneasy but did not start to investigate until the next day, thinking perhaps the man had stayed over night with some farmer. However, when nothing was seen or heard of the man the following day Mr. Safier drove around the country districts making inquiry for the missing outfit, but no one had seen it.

Further investigation disclosed the fact that the man had crossed the river at Fayette City with the rig into Washington county and traced to Stockdale, where the trail was lost. The Burns agency at Pittsburgh was communicated with, who said they knew nothing of Williams and that they had no one working in this territory.

SEMI-FINAL GAME ENDED IN DISPUTE

Local high school basket ball players are very much interested in the outcome of the dispute over the Fifth Avenue-Bellvue game, played at Triggs Stadium Pittsburgh, last night. According to the decision of the umpire the game ended in a tie, but Fifth Avenue lays claim to the contest because one of their players shot a field goal after the umpire had called a foul on Bellvue and refused to allow the score. The referee failed to rule on the question, and now the game is in dispute. It must be settled before tomorrow night, when the winner will meet the McKeesport high. The same play which Fifth Avenue disputes occurred in many games during the season, and there appeared to be no objections to decisions given by officials in ruling out such scores.

SERVICES CONTINUE AT M. E. CHURCH

At the M. E. church last evening Rev. John O. Martin of Beallsville, preached a very able sermon, using as his text, Luke 9:23—"If any man will come after me let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me." The speaker emphasized self-denial, the taking up of the cross daily or constantly serving, and necessity of following the Christ. This strong appeal was made to a large company of Epworth Leaguers, as well as many elder present.

This evening the Men's organization will attend in a body. Six men will speak four or five minutes each, on as many salient christian topics, appropriate for Holy Week services.

COAL INTERESTS DIFFER ON SIDING

Before Judge James I. Brownson on Tuesday was taken up the suit of George W. Dawson of Charleroi, against the Pittsburgh Coal company. It is an action in trespass and a claim for damages for alleged trespass in and upon certain property owned by Mr. Dawson in East Pike Run township and adjoining the property of the defendant company, known as the Crescent mine near California, and bordering the Pennsylvania railroad lines and the Monongahela river.

Involved in this suit is a certain siding that accommodates the Crescent mine of the defendant company. The trespass alleged covers the period from February of 1917 to July of 1918. It is alleged that without legal authority the defendant coal company entered upon property owned by the plaintiff and constructed and have maintained a siding, which siding it is averred his interfered with the operation of the plaintiff on the land owned by him.

ASK COUNTY AID FOR SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

A committee from Monongahela, composed of Dr. C. B. Wood and Prof. R. G. Dean, called on the county commissioners at Washington on Tuesday relative to securing an appropriation from the county for the completion of the soldiers' and sailors' memorial monument at Monongahela. Work on this project was started some time ago, and lack of funds is said to have held up its completion. The county is asked to give $22,000. It appears, however, before the county can donate money for a purpose of this kind that the project or which the money is asked must have the endorsement of what is known as the art commission, a state organization. While the commissioners were favorable to giving the proper authority at this time to do money, they did not feel they had so.
